By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL: DALLAS, Texas, March 12.—Receiver Brown sent a supplemental telegram to Mr. Powderly last night, saying that the United States circuit court is open to any employee for all imaginable grievances since the receivers were appointed. Three strikers have been arrested at Big Springs, by virtue of warrants issued by the United States court. The men are charged with interference with property in the hands of the court.

ST. LOUIS, March 12, noon.—The officers of Missouri Pacific railway yards made up a freight train this morning without serious opposition from the strikers, and at 11:45 it left Eighteenth street for the south.

ST. LOUIS, March 12.—A special from Des Moines, Mo., says that the engines in the round house there were further disabled last night, presumably by the strikers. The passenger train last night found obstructions on the track near here, but they were removed when it was found the train was not a freight train.

RIOT AT TORONTO.

TORONTO, March 12.—The street railway troubles resulted in a riot to-day as the police undertook to run cars. Several persons were hurt and two arrests were made in the face of much resistance. Subsequently the cars were running each way, manned by the police.

NEW YORK POLICE.

In the Gymnasium, Where Applicants Are Examined.

Boxing and Wrestling Which Sometimes Becomes Earnest—Civil Service Reigns Now—But Still The Boy With a Pull Gets In

(Special Correspondence.) NEW YORK, March 9.—No doubt if you were to mention the subject quite accidentally to a New Yorker, he would say, with an innocent assurance which betrays of the sublime: "Oh, yes; the police of New York are the finest in the world."

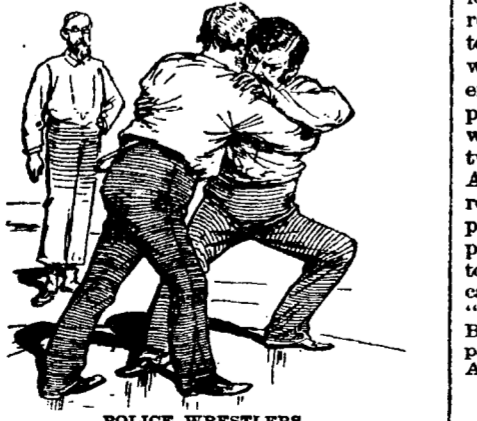

IN THE GYMNASIUM.

But if the New York officers are appointed and drilled strictly according to the rules of the New York civil service law, it will not be more than a year or two till they rival in appearance and usefulness even a London Fleet street constable.

First, the applicant for a place on the force must be of a certain height and weight. He must be at least 5 feet 5 inches high. It is said, too, that the examiners test his weight by seeing that he weighs not less than two pounds for every inch in height. At any rate, that is a very good test of proportion. He must be of good moral character, and not over 35 years old. To try their muscle they must wear dumb bells, raise themselves by a horizontal bar till their chin touches the bar, and finally must run a race of a quarter of a mile. "A policeman," said a New York editor, "ought at least to be able to run away from a thief."

The running test is the severest of all. None but trained athletes can run a quarter of a mile without being blown. Their literary qualifications are limited to reading and writing English. A policeman is not expected to know how far it is to the planet Saturn, or the exact degree of the cyclonic intensity with which a mule's heel hits a barn door. His muscle, morals, and his knowledge of streets, lines of horse cars, public buildings, railway stations, ferries, etc., are the chief points taken into account.

Once in the new policeman must practice and train to bring up his physical man. This is an excellent requirement. The patrolmen have a gymnasium of their own, where, under the eye of masters and inspectors, they go about the acquirement of muscle. Candidates must try themselves here, too. Boxing, wrestling and running are among the principal of the athletic exercises. The first illustration shows in a graphic manner two of the "cops" boxing in competition, under the critical eye of an inspector, who stands off and sights them.

POLICE WRESTLERS.

In the wrestling match a chalk circle is drawn around the two at a certain distance. They grip, and endeavor to push each other outside of the chalk line. The one who can do so is the victor. It is thus a brave patrolman is supposed to grab and down a thief.

Police gymnasium secrets will leak out, in spite of fate. Laughable incidents happen among the boxers and wrestlers, especially the latter. They are, of course, usually strangers to one another. A pair of them will struggle and tug to throw each other out, till occasionally the fun gets to be desperately earnest. The men become angry, and things begin to look like a prize fight. Then the inspector forces them apart, like two snarling dogs. They scowl blackly and shake their fists, and each vows to pay off the other fellow when he gets him outside.

THE RUNNING MATCH. This shows the running test. The fat fellow in the advance looks tolerably well blown.

The officers are paid well, comparatively. They get $1,000 the first year, $1,100 the second, the third and thereafter, $1,200. Those who are disabled in performance of duty, or who grow old on the force, after ten years' service, get a pension of $300 a year. If one dies or is killed in service the same sum is allowed to his widow as long as she remains unmarried. This is plainly discouraging matrimony and putting a premium on widowed blessedness. The dead man's minor children also get a pension. This is as it should be. A man who spends his best years protecting other men's families for not large pay should have his own taken care of after he is dead.

The New York policemen are made up to a great extent of large, rosy, good-looking Irishmen. Though the civil service regulations are strict about getting on the force, it is whispered nevertheless that the boy who has "pull" or "flood" still stands a fair chance. For instance, if the boy with the "pull" is half an inch shorter than the regulations require, he may be examined over again, and by some mysterious influence the "pull" lengthens him out.

BOSTON CUT SHORT.

Boston in this—Boston—About Boston!

(Special Correspondence.) BOSTON, March 8.—Old South Church, historic museum, twenty-five cents admittance, dedication to deity foreclosed, sword of Bunker Hill, balls, bullets, skulls, powder horns, old Revolutionary pants—times that tried men's souls—worn out in the rear, old boots, cradle that came over in the Mayflower, place where Washington stood when he said it was "cussed shame British used church so," window where Gen. Warren came in to make speech—Boston massacre funeral—window he went out of, photo of Warren's skull, hole where British bullet went in, hole didn't where it went out, hole where Warren's soul went out, warning pangs used during Revolution to five patriotic heart, bone of British soldier broken at Bunker Hill, and 100 old Bibles people have got through reading. All for twenty-five cents.

Best Boston mind, keen, sharp, questioning, scrutinizing. Wants to know how and why. Stands always on tiptoe, an eternal note of interrogation. Inclined to bounce old ideas, and run off track in following new ones. Forty now schools of thought here. In churches and out. Theology in all shades and hues of "advanced thought." New patterns monthly. Many ministers know more than they preach. Others preach more than they know. Or remember when they're through. Very liberal sermons heard here from strictly orthodox pulpits. Sugar coated. But up in the old-fashioned envelope. Congregation likes both sugar and the inside. Don't exactly know what it is. Tastes good. Like brainy in gum drops. Feels good after it's down. Same ideas heard in different form from the Parker, Tom Paine, or other off-colored platforms would scare 'em.

Best mind doesn't stay in Boston. Gets its start here. Then goes elsewhere to stir up others. Boston an intellectual nursery. Best mind goes off on missionary work all over the land. Poorest stays behind. Puffs itself up. Best business brain of New York, Chicago and San Francisco originally from or near Boston. Boston means all New England. Beacon street and Boston blue blood means muchly withered branches of one tough old oak. Family blood won't run or carry family intellect. Part of Boston stands on remains of dead grand-daddy and sings out "Me Too!" Good deal of trying to wear grand-daddy's reputation. Olden's Donkey when it would roar it brays. "Hee hah! hee hah!" Accepted by other donkeys as genuine roar.

Boston's business sauced every Monday with Rev. Jos. Cook's Tremont Temple noon lectures, from 12 to 1. Feast of Joseph's reason before 1 p. m. lunch. Thousands attend. Joseph talks sitting down. Top heavy with ideas. Good deal to hold up. Needless expenditure of force to require Joe's legs to prop up brains for an hour. Answers four written questions before lecture. Lecture twenty-five minutes in length. To a second. All over sharp at 1. Audience scatter and resume "biz." Joseph an interesting expounder and something of an intellectual pounder. Combative. Sometimes next door to abusive. Sledge hammerish. Likes to call hard names. Reminds one externally of "down east Tipper." Macken's schooner. Built on brewer's horse lines. Weighs apparently 240 pounds. Solid. Not blown up. At least physically.

A Negro Boy Lynched.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. COLUMBIA, S. C., March 12.—A negro boy thirteen years old was lynched for having struck his employer on the head with an ax, and then robbing the house of considerable money. The boy said a negro waiting maid induced him to commit the crime and had the money. She was also arrested. His victim, Mrs. Sauls, is not dead.

Began Investigation.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. WASHINGTON, March 12.—The special committee of the house, charged with inquiry into the issuance of Pan-Electric telephone stock to government officers, began its investigations to-day. Some time was spent in discussing the mode of procedure.

The investigation of a scandal in the Floyd county poor asylum resulted in the expulsion of an old pauper of seventy-five years and a partially paralyzed female pauper of thirty years.

Fire of an unknown origin destroyed the freight and passenger depot of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railroad at Mitchell. A large amount of freight and baggage was destroyed.

Frank Wyatt, of Shelbyville, a young man who stole $100 from his father, Samuel Wyatt, came into court yesterday morning, and on a plea of guilty was given three years in the penitentiary.

Over three hundred accessions have been made in the different churches of Tipton county this winter, and revivals are still in progress. Trances are common and four persons have become insane over religion.

Another murder in Wabash county last week makes it look more and more as if that locality was destined to receive a national reputation for general cussedness without competition. The county is strongly republican, however.

Luckett Ramsay, a grocery clerk at Tipton, loaded a revolver and placed it in a show case. Afterward, forgetting that he had loaded it, he took the pretty plaything out, and while flourishing it about, sent a bullet through his wrist.

A gang of tramps broke into several houses at Waynetown on Monday night. One of them was caught and brought to Crawfordsville, tried and sentenced to the penitentiary for five years. He gave his name as George M. Howard, of New York.

The St. Paul catholic church at Greencastle, has purchased the ground and buildings owned and occupied by Renick & Curtis's carriage factory. It is the purpose of the church to tear away the old buildings and erect a fine school house of large dimensions.

Elmer Smith and Thomas Mye engaged in a shooting scrape in the latter's saloon at Scottsburg. Several shots were fired, one of which made a slight wound on Smith's left shoulder. Some one had bombarded Nye's saloon with brick bats, and he accused Smith of it. No arrests.

Tuesday night the dwelling house of Henry Miller, who lives about eight miles east of Washington, burned while the family was absent at church. The Millers are very poor people, and they lost all they had in the world, except the clothes on their backs. They are in a pitiable condition.

Francis Wilcox, a wealthy retired merchant of Richmond, became violently insane a few days ago and yesterday escaped from his keepers. Search has been made, with no success. Wilcox is sixty years old, and his insanity dates from his recent service on the United States jury at Indianapolis. When he left the house he had on his person $400 in cash and $12,000 in bonds.

Mr. Oliver Bly, a farmer living near Charlestown, set a trap for the purpose of catching a fox that had been raiding his hen roost. Next morning he found a huge catamount fastened by his fore foot in the trap. The animal made a desperate fight, but was finally killed. The animal has a head like a leopard, reddish brown fur, head and legs spotted. It weighed forty pounds and measured four feet from nose to tip of tail.

Governor Gray has sent the following letter to John A. Boir, sheriff of Davies county:

DEAR SIR.—I understand that Lynch, one of the prisoners charged with the murder of Bunch in connection with the Archers, who were hanged Tuesday night at Shoals by a mob, is confined in the Davies county jail. The frequent lynchings in Indiana of prisoners charged with crime is bringing the state into public disgrace, and I sincerely hope you will take such precautionary measures as will enable you to uphold and maintain the majesty of the law. Any attempt by persons to take the law in their own hands must be resisted to the fullest extent, and if it becomes necessary you shall have all the assistance required to maintain the supremacy of the law and insure its due enforcement. Very respectfully, ISAAC F. GRAY, Governor of Indiana.

BIG FIGURES.

Mrs. Grant's Check for $300,000.

Herewith is presented a reproduction in fac-simile, though reduced in size considerably, of a check that is likely to become historical. The amount of this check is said to be twice as large as any sum ever paid to an author before. Macaulay having received $20,000 in one payment for his history of England.

The check reduced in fac-simile. The most remarkable point in regard to this check is that it is dated just one year after the date on which Gen. Grant signed his contract with the publishers. Within that year the book was almost wholly written, published and the great bulk of the money collected. The author in the meantime going through a lingering and painful illness and death. The production of the book has given employment to about 1,000 operatives besides the 9,000 canvassers who have been engaged in selling it, they having disposed of 35,000 copies of the first volume. Nor is the sale by any means ended. The second volume will be ready in April, when it is expected Mrs. Grant's share of 70 per cent. in the profits on the sale of the complete work will aggregate $500,000. Who can say there is no money for American authors.

The First Labor Strike. A paragraph recently printed in a New York newspaper said that the first labor strike in this country of which record is preserved occurred among the factory girls of Dover, N. H., in 1827. The girls paraded the town with a flag and a brass band, and the employers quickly yielded to their terms. In reply to this paragraph a correspondent of The Commercial Advertiser writes that the cordwainers (shoemakers) of New York city went on strike in November, 1800. They were indicted for conspiracy to hamper trade and export money, and were arraigned before Mayor De Witt Clinton and Sessions Justices Meier and Carpenter, composing the "mayor's court." Mr. Sampson and Mr. Golden decried them, and on the other side were District Attorney Riker and Thomas Addis Emmet. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and the strikers were fined $1 each.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. NEW ORLEANS, March 12.—At 7:30 this morning, when the keepers made an effort to arouse Ford and Murphy, who were to be hanged to-day, they could not wake them up. After an examination by physicians they concluded the men had taken belladonna. At 9:30 Murphy had rallied a little, but Ford was still unconscious.

PROBABLY POSTPONED.

CHICAGO, March 12.—A dispatch sent from New Orleans at noon to-day said the physicians had not yet been able to restore Ford and Murphy to consciousness and it is doubtful whether they would hang to-day.

HANGED JUST THE SAME.

NEW ORLEANS, March 12.—Pat Ford and John Murphy were hanged here to-day at 12:51 for the murder of Captain Murphy in the streets. It was the most cold blooded crime ever committed in New Orleans.

At 12:40 Sheriff Butler, accompanied by several subordinate officials, took the bodies of the doomed men, still apparently lifeless, and bore them to the scaffold.

Amid profound silence the bodies were carried up the steps, held in erect position while nooses were drawn over and around their necks.

No signs of life were observable in either man. The trap was then sprung.

Schaefer Still in the Lead.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. NEW YORK, March 12.—Another good sized audience greeted the third night's play in the billiard match between Vignaux and Schaefer. Last night's play was a repetition of that of its predecessors. Schaefer had everything his own way from the start, completing his third 600 while Vignaux made 228. The score for the night stands:

THAT bricks absorb more moisture than most kinds of stone is admitted, but they do not retain it for so long a period, and it is consequently less liable to find its way through brick walls. But apart from this, there are methods of protecting brick walls from damp, which we should shrink from applying to stone. If we were to affix ornamental hanging tiles to the surface of a stone wall, such concealment of a fine natural material would be regarded as a piece of vandalism in art almost equal to the application of cement. Hanging tiles form one of the most picturesque of coverings for external walls, and greatly conduce to the appearance of home-like comfort which the exterior of a dwelling can be made to suggest, while, if glazed, they will not absorb moisture.

STRONG STATEMENTS.

Rev. S. H. Troyer, of New Albany, Ind., states as follows how he saved himself from an attack which threatened serious results:

"On the 7th of June, 1884, I was taken with rheumatic fever, and for five weeks was not free from it. It then settled in my left foot, where it remained for about four weeks. Then it moved to my hips, shoulders, neck and collar bone, where it stayed until driven out by Athliophoros. Previous to the use of that remedy I had tried the skill of five physicians, from whom I obtained no relief. Then I resorted to the use of different remedies external and internal, but I continued to grow worse all the time until the 1st of October, when my druggist recommended Athliophoros. I had but little faith when I took the first bottle. At this time I was so helpless that my wife had to dress me, wash my face and assist me out of bed. I could not sleep more than from thirty to forty-five minutes at a time, so intense was my pain.

"My first dose of Athliophoros was taken at two o'clock in the afternoon, and took two more soon after. The first dose gave me much relief, and the second eased me so greatly that I was enabled to talk freely and with comfort to my family and friends. The third dose enabled me to sleep four and a half hours without waking. I continued the use of Athliophoros until fourteen bottles in all had been taken. By this time my health was so much improved that I left off the medicine. That was in December, 1884, and I am now quite well."

Rev. Wm. Cool, of Denver, Ind., says: "I used only one bottle of Athliophoros, and I think it a good medicine. I consider that I derived much benefit from it."

"Athliophoros," says Mr. D. P. Sheets, of Mooresville, Ind., "gave me great satisfaction in a case of neuralgia, and I can heartily recommend it to others as doing all that is claimed for it."

"J. A. Wilson, the photographer of New Albany, Ind., whose offices are at Nos. 6 and 8 Main street, tells of one of these cases. His story follows:

"I had rheumatism but it disappeared after using only one bottle of Athliophoros. It was in my arms and I had sharp, shooting pains. I was suffering and complaining a good deal when a friend, coming into my gallery one morning, asked me what the trouble was. I said it was rheumatism. He told me of Athliophoros as a cure for neuralgia and rheumatism, and it struck me very forcibly, as it did not claim to cure every complaint that flesh is heir to. I bought a bottle on the strength of what he said. That was all I needed. I used the one bottle over six months ago, and have not had one ache or pain from rheumatism since."

Mr. Hiram F. Sides, of Fort Branch, Ind., says of his wife's cure:

"Her suffering from neuralgia was intense, and we concluded to try Athliophoros. Almost from the first dose I could see that she was improving, and two bottles effected a permanent cure, so that she feels no effects of her once dreaded disease. I tried for rheumatism and soon found relief, one bottle curing me. I shall take great pleasure in recommending Athliophoros to my neighbors."

It can not get ATHLIOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—only one dollar. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. PHILLIPS BROOKS, the most prominent preacher in Boston, is a bachelor of fifty, who, without being handsome, has a noble head, and a frame of massive proportions. He is eloquent, but not, according to the Boston standard, an orator; as popular as he is prominent, and he lives in one of the most beautiful houses ever built in Boston.

There are a number of anecdotes in circulation about the late Congressman Rankin and the brave manner in which he met death. Almost his last words were a joke. When the late Senator Carpenter lay dying he showed a similar nerve. A few hours before his death he was seized with a violent spasm, and asked the doctor what it was. "It's the colon," said the doctor, referring to that portion of the anatomy bearing that name. "Then I've a little longer to live," replied Carpenter, "we never come to a full stop at a colon."

It is not generally known that the laws of this state are very severe on officials who get intoxicated. The following is the section of the revised statutes bearing on such cases: "Sec. 2035.—Whoever, holding an office under the constitution or laws of this state, becomes or is intoxicated during the business hours at his office shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars nor less than ten dollars, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail not more than ten days; for a second offense may be deprived of his office by the judgment of the proper circuit court." In several cases in different parts of the state officers have been removed under this law.

Mrs. HANCOCK, widow of Gen. Hancock, is a very prepossessing woman in manner and appearance. She is of medium height and rather slender; her face, while not beautiful, is a charming face to look at, showing great nobility of thought and character. Her hair is dark, inclining to the auburn tinge; her eyes dark hazel, appearing almost black at times, and her complexion fair. Of late years she has dressed always in black and has been seen little in society, although she has entertained a great deal in a quiet way at her Island home. She has been her husband's constant companion, and her desolation, now that she is left childless and a widow, is almost beyond endurance.

THE celebrated Polish novelist Michael Czajkowski, known also as Sadyk Pasha, who lately committed suicide, had a singularly romantic career. He took a leading part in the uprising of 1830, and was wounded at Warsaw. For some years after he lived in England and France, but in 1840 went to Turkey as a secret agent of France, and became a Mohammedan. He executed many important secret commissions for the Porte, and in the Crimean war organized and led the Polish Legion that occupied the Dobruza. Constantinople was his home thereafter until 1873, when the Czar pardoned him and allowed him to return to his native place, where he spent the remainder of his days in literary and horticultural pursuits.

BOSTON Budget: The gentlemen connected with the Congregational Church in Wollaston, wishing to raise a few hundred dollars to clear the society from debt, after due cogitation, and without consulting their wives, daughters, or sweethearts, decided on the novel experiment of getting up a church fair, to be managed and conducted exclusively by men, even to the cooking and washing of dishes. On Wednesday and Thursday evenings of the past week the fair, managed entirely by men folks, was witnessed in the church. Cake, pies, rolls, and meats of various kinds, with excellent coffee, all prepared by the men, were dispensed without female aid. Even the inevitable "grab-bag" was managed and the usual assortment of fancy articles sold by whiskered attendants. The novelty of the affair drew crowds of visitors and scored a financial success. The ladies of Wollaston are, however, undismayed, and talk of taking revenge some time.

The Root of the Evil.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to make directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities, and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood purifying qualities. Sold by all druggists.

Thirty-five persons were burned to death or seriously injured by a fire in a flax-drying house at Oels, in Germany.

It Should Be Generally Known

That the multitude of diseases of scrofulous nature generally proceed from a torpid condition of the liver. The blood becomes impure because the liver does not act properly and work off the poison from the system, and the certain results are blotches, pimples, eruptions, swellings, tumors, ulcers, and kindred affections or setting upon the lungs and poisoning their delicate tissues until ulceration, breaking down, and consumption is established. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will, by acting upon the liver and purifying the blood, cure all these diseases.

the father of a fine girl baby. He came down town this morning, singing "Bye, Baby Bye, O!" with a voice as tender as spring chicken.

Dr. W. T. Barnett, who has charge of the pest house, is the son of a Lutheran minister and a graduate of Heidelberg university, at Springfield, Ohio. He is bright and a good young physician.

There are two patients at the pest-house, and Dr. W. T. Barnett is compelled to look after and nurse as well as treat them. This is neglect, and the county commissioners should at once
send a nurse out there.

County Superintendent Feltz has just returned from St. Joe township, where he found the schools flourishing under Trustee Bullerman. Mr. Feltz tells us that out of the last examination he held here but eight licenses to teach have been issued.

Col. C. A. Zollinger, the state pension agent in the city. The colonel is getting on finely in his position and tells us that the Hoosier veterans are climbing on the pension rolls at the rate of 275 a month, exclusive of those who die. For three days last week he cashed 19,430
checks and paid out to old soldiers $555,126.58 and has $708,535.54 to distribute yet.

Mrs. Lulu Roberts, a star at the Metropolitan theatre, was fined $11 and sent to jail for one day by the mayor this morning, for cohabitation with one Thier, who fled the town. The woman abandoned her disabled soldier husband and three children to go on the stage
and began her career at Pete Tonnellier's place at Toledo. Such is the life of a "serio chronic."

Gabriel Schmauck, of the Franklin Insurance company, of Indianapolis, and Mr. J. J. Lewis, of Chicago, met at the office of Hon. Henry Monning yesterday morning, and after looking into the recent explosion at St. Mary's Catholic church, made a satisfactory settlement
on the policies held in their companies.
These agencies are represented by Mr.
Monning.

One of the greatest novelties of the age will be presented to the people of the northwest, at the exposition building in Chicago, during the latter part of March, in the shape of a grove of bearing orange trees. This exhibit will be made in connection with an exhibit of citrus fruits, such as oranges and lemons from the now famous orange section of the Pacific coast, under the auspices of the Immigration association of Southern California. The transcontinental railroads have generously offered to bring
this exhibit to Chicago free of freight.
It will fill twenty cars, and twelve men
will accompany it. The Fort Wayne roads will run excursions to the exposition.

"Adjutant-general Koontz left to-day
to visit Terre Haute, Lafayette, Fort Wayne, Kokomo and Richmond, with a view of ascertaining whether or not the citizens of either of these places will offer sufficient inducements to justify
the annual state military encampment
being held there. Messrs. Will McKee, George Spahr and B. C. Wright have been appointed a committee to canvas
this city, to see if enough interest is manifested in the encampment to have
it held here. A report will be made on the matter on the evening of the 19th inst., when it will be decided where the encampment will be held. There is no doubt that Indianapolis is the proper place for it and it will take very hard
work to make an encampment a success
in any other city of the state," says the Indianapolis News.

IT IS FIXED.

The Twelfth District Congressional Convention to Meet at Auburn May 13th

The democratic congressional committee, of the Twelfth district, met in the United States court room at two o'clock
this afternoon. The committee consists
of Col. C. A. Zollinger, chairman; Wm.
Kaough, of Allen county; Hon. Eli W.
Brown, of Whitley county; E. B. Gerber, of Noble county; T. H. Spratt, of DeKalb; Herman Freygang, of Steuben,
and John W. Kimmell, of Lagrange.

Col. C. A. Zollinger resigned the chairmanship and E. B. Gerber, of Ligonier,
was chosen to the place. Herman Frey-
gang, of Angola, was made secretary
and the committee proceeded to business.

The committee fixed May 13, 1886, as
the time for holding the congressional convention and named Auburn as the place for the political convocation that is to name the next congressman. Auburn is reached by railroad from every county
in the district, save Lagrange. It is very central and gives satisfaction.

The apportionment was fixed at a ratio
of one delegate for each 200 votes cast
for Gov. I. P. Gray and for each extra hundred or a fraction over another delegate is allowed. This apportionment
gives Allen county forty-four delegates;
DeKalb, fourteen; Lagrange, seven;
Noble, fourteen; Steuben, seven; Whitley, twelve, making a total of ninety-
eight delegates.

DID HE SUICIDE?

An Old Man Found Dead in the
Feeder Canal.

This morning the body of an unknown
man was found in the feeder canal, near
the aqueduct, this side of the French brewery. The body had not been long
in the water, apparently, and Coroner
Dinnen sent it to Wellman & Franks'
mortuary rooms to await identification.
The dead man is about fifty-five years of age, and wore a brown and white shirt
and jeans pants.

This afternoon the body was recognized as that of Fred Herbst, father of Otto Herbst, who is stamp clerk at the postoffice. Mr. Herbst has of late been buying cattle. He lives on East Lewis street and his death is regarded as mysterious. Mr. Herbst is a member of St. John's Lutheran church and was much respected. Sheriff Nelson this afternoon is looking into the matter and
suspects foul play, as no motive can be assigned for suicide. He had but twenty-four cents on his person.

Revival at the Baptist Church.

This is the tenth week of the most wonderful work of grace in the history
of this denomination in this city. The inquirers are still numerous and intensely interested in the supreme question of the hour: "What shall I do to be saved?"
The striking feature of these gospel
meetings is the conversion of adults,
ranging from twenty-five to seventy
years of age. Pastor Northrop is besieged with inquirers every afternoon,
in his study at the church, from 2 to 5 o'clock. Even upon the streets he is met by individuals deeply solicitous regarding the subject of Christianity and personal salvation. Surely Fort Wayne
is moving out of its sinful life into the
purer atmosphere of vital, healthful morality based upon the foundation, Christ.
These gospel meetings will continue the
coming week and will be kept up as long
as there is an honest seeker.

"Sleep breathes at once from out thee,
my little patient boy." Oh! yes, certainly.
But that child would have cried all night
with his foot, if it had not been for a timely bottle of Salvation Oil. Only twenty-five cents expended brought him
rest.

The Metropolitan theatre Pleasure
party is drawing full houses this week.
Next week the renowned Washington
Bro's., all star combination, will appear.
Watch for the hangers.

CONGRESSMAN LOWRY.

The Twelfth District Representative in the City.

Hon. Robert Lowry, the representative from this district to the congress
of the United States, arrived home this morning. The judge looks hearty, but bears the marks of hard work. He did not go near the district committee meeting, but from his office conducted a correspondence to Washington, attending minutely to his labors there. He will remain but a few days and expects to be at his post early next week. The judge
is proud of President Cleveland's administration and tells that Mr. Cleveland frequently expresses his admiration for the democrats of Allen county—in fact, he compliments the banner county to every
Fort Wayne democrat whom he meets.

A NAKED FEE

Is all the Canal Purchasers Can
Hold.

The supreme court yesterday decided
that while the purchasers of the Wabash
and Erie canal took a fee, yet they took
it with all easements and charges of which they could have notice. The case came up from Carroll county, where a purchaser was resisting the right of the county to rebuild a bridge over the canal
and use the stones in old piers and abutments. The court holds that the defendant bought with notice of the right of the state to maintain a bridge over the canal, and her right to the stone did not pass by

Strikers are Arrested at Big Springs by Order of the United States Court.

New Men Are Going to Work, and at Some Points the Engines Are Disabled.

ST. LOUIS, March 12, noon.—The officers of Missouri Pacific railway yards made up a freight train this morning without serious opposition from the strikers, and at 11:45 it left Eighteenth street for the south.

ST. LOUIS, March 12.—A special from Des Moines, Mo., says that the engines in the round house there were further disabled, last night, presumably by the strikers. The passenger train last night found obstruction on the track near here, but they were removed when it was found the train was not a freight train.

RIOT AT TORONTO.

TORONTO, March 12.—The street railway troubles resulted in a riot to-day as the police undertook to run cars. Several persons were hurt and two arrests were made in the face of much resistance. Subsequently the cars were running each way, manned by the police.

NEW YORK POLICE.

In the Gymnasium, Where Applicants Are Examined.

Boxing and Wrestling Which Sometimes Becomes Earnest—Civil Service Reigns Now—But Still

The Boy With a Pull Gets In

NEW YORK, March 12.—No doubt if you were to mention the subject quite accidentally to a New Yorker, he would say, with an innocent assurance which betrays the subtlety: "Oh, yes, the police of New York are the finest in the world."

IN THE GYMNASIUM.

But if the New York officers are appointed and drilled strictly according to the rules of the New York civil service law, it will not be more than a year or two till they rival in appearance and usefulness even a London Fleet street constable.

First, the applicant for a place on the force must be of a certain height and weight. He must be at least 5 feet 8 inches high. It is said, too, that the examiners test his weight by seeing that he weighs not less than two pounds for every inch in height. At any rate, that is a very good test of proportion. He must be of good moral character, and not over 35 years old. To try their muscle they must wag dumb bells, raise themselves by a horizontal bar till their chin touches the bar, and finally must run a race of a quarter of a mile. "A policeman," said a New York officer, "ought at least to be able to run away from a thief."

The running test is the severest of all. None but trained athletes can run a quarter of a mile without being blown. Their literary qualifications are limited to reading and writing English. A policeman is not expected to know how far it is to the planet Saturn, or the exact degree of the cyclonic intensity with which a mule's heel hits a barn door. His muscle, morals, and his knowledge of streets, lines of horse cars, public buildings, railway stations, ferries, etc., are the chief points taken into account.

Once in, the new policeman must practice and train to bring up his physical man. This is an excellent requirement. The patrolmen have a gymnasium of their own, where, under the eye of masters and inspectors, they go about the acquisition of muscle. Candidates must try themselves here, too. Boxing, wrestling, and running are among the principal of the athletic exercises. The first illustration shows in a graphic manner two of the would-be "cops" boxing in competition, under the critical eye of an inspector, who stands off and sights them.

POLICE WRESTLERS.

In the wrestling match a chalk circle is drawn around the two at a certain distance. They grip, and endeavor to push each other outside of the chalk line. The one who can do so is the victor. It is thus a brave patrolman is supposed to grab and down a thief.

Police gymnasium secrets will leak out, in spite of this. Laughable incidents happen among the boxes and wrestlers, especially the latter. They are, of course, usually strangers to one another. A pair of them will struggle and tug to throw each other out, till occasionally the fun gets to be desperately earnest. "The men become angry, and things begin to look like a prize fight. Then the inspector forces them apart, like two snarling dogs. They scowl blackly and shake their fists, and each vows to pay off the other fellow when he gets him outside.

THE RUNNING MATCH.

This shows the running test. The fat fellow in the advance looks tolerably well blown.

The officers are paid well, comparatively. They get $1,000 the first year, $1,100 the second, the third and thereafter, $1,300. Those who are disabled in performance of duty, or who grow old on the force, after ten years' service, get a pension of $300 a year. If one dies or is killed in service the same sum is allowed to his widow as long as she remains unmarried. This is plainly discouraging machinery and putting a premium on widowed blessedness. The dead man's minor children also get a pension. This is as it should be. A man who spends his best years protecting other men's families for not large pay should have his own taken care of after he is dead.

The New York policemen are made up to a great extent of large, rosy, good-looking Irishmen. Though the civil service regulations are so strict about getting on the force, it is whispered nevertheless that the boy who has "pull" or "influence" still stands a fair chance. For instance, if the boy with the "pull" is half an inch shorter than the regulations require, he may be examined over again, and by some mysterious influence the "pull" lengthens him out.

BOSTON CUT SHORT.

Boston in Hills—Boston—About Boston! Boston!

(Special Correspondence.)

BOSTON, March 12.—Old South Church, historic museum, twenty-five cents admittance, dedication to duty foreclosed, sword of Bunker Hill, bullets, skulls, powder horns, old Revolutionary punts—times that tried men's souls—worn out in the rear, old boots, cradle that came over in the Mayflower, place where Washington stood when he said it was "useless shame British used to make speech—Boston massacre funeral window he went out of, photo of Warren's skull, hole where British bullet went in, hole ditto where it went out, hole where Warren's soul went out, warping pans used during Revolution to fire patriotic heart, hour of British soldier broken at Bunker Hill, and 100 old Bibles people have got through reading. All for twenty-five cents.

Best Boston mind, keen, sharp, questioning, scrutinizing. Wants to know how and why. Stands always on tiptoe, an eternal note of interrogation. Inclined to bounce old ideas, and run off track in following new ones. Forty new schools of thought here. In churches and out. Theology in all shades and hues of "advanced thought." New patterns monthly. Many ministers know more than they preach. Others preach more than they know. One remember when they're through. Very liberal opinions heard here from strictly orthodox pulpits. Sugar coated. Put up in the old-fashioned envelope. Congregation likes both sugar and the inside. Don't exactly know what it is. Tastes good. Like brandy in gum drops. Feels good after it's down. Same ideas heard in different form from the Parker, Tom Paine, or other off-colored platforms would serve 'em.

Best mind doesn't stay in Boston. Gets its start here. Then goes elsewhere to stir up others. Boston an intellectual nursery. Best mind goes off on missionary work all over the land. Poorest stays behind. Fuffs itself up. Best business brain of New York, Chicago and San Francisco originally from or near Boston. Boston means all New England. Bacon street and Boston blue blood means much withered branches of once tough old oak. Family blood won't run or carry family intellect. Part of Boston stands on remains of dead grand-daddy and sings out "Me-too!" Good deal of trying to wear grand-daddy's reputation. Old dodge. Donkey in lion's skin. Ears will stick out. Tail ditto. When it would roar it brays. "He's half lion half donkey." Accepted by other donkeys as genuine roar.

Boston's business seemed every Monday with Rev. Jos. Cook's Trement Temple noon lectures, from 12 to 1. Peas of Joseph's reason before 1 p.m. lunch. Thousands attend. Joseph talks sitting down. Top heavy with ideas. Good deal to hold up. Needless expenditure of force to require Jos's legs to prop up brains for an hour. Answers four written questions before lecture. Lectures twenty-five minutes in length. To a second. All over sharp at 1. Audience scatter and resume "biz." Joseph an interesting expounder and something of an intellectual pounder. Combative. Sometimes next door to abusive. Sledge hammerish. Likes to call hard names. Reminds one externally of "down east skipper." Mackered schooner. Built on brewer's horse lines. Weights apparently 250 pounds. Solid. Not blown up. At least physically.

Over three hundred accessions have been made in the different churches of Tipton county this winter, and revivals are still in progress. Truancy are common and four persons have become insane over religion.

Another murder in Wabash county last week makes it look more and more as if that locality was destined to receive a national reputation for general criminality without competition. The county is strongly republican, however.

Lockett Ramsey, a grocery clerk at Tipton, loaded a revolver and placed it in a show case. Afterward, forgetting that he had loaded it, he took the pretty plaything out, and while flourishing it about, sent a bullet through his wrist. A gang of tramps broke into several houses at Waynetown on Monday night. One of them was caught and brought to Crawfordsville, tried and sentenced to the penitentiary for five years. He gave his name as George M. Howard, of New York.

The St. Paul catholic church at Greencastle, has purchased the ground and buildings owned and occupied by Renick & Curtis's carriage factory. It is the purpose of the church to tear away the old buildings and erect a fine school house of large dimensions.

Elmer Smith and Thomas Mye engaged in a shooting scrape in the latter's saloon at Scottsburg. Several shots were fired, one of which made a slight wound on Smith's left shoulder. Some one had bombarded Nye's saloon with brick bats, and he accused Smith of it. No arrests.

Tuesday night the dwelling house of Henry Miller, who lives about eight miles east of Washington, burned while the family was absent at church. The Millers are very poor people, and they lost all they had in the world, except the clothes on their backs. They are in a pitiable condition.

Francois Wilcox, a wealthy retired merchant of Richmond, became violently insane a few days ago and yesterday escaped from his keepers. Search has been made, with no success. Wilcox is sixty years old, and his insanity dates from his recent service on the United States jury at Indianapolis. When he left the house he had on his person $400 in cash and $12,000 in bonds.

Mr. Oliver Bly, a farmer living near Charlestown, set a trap for the purpose of catching a fox that had been raiding his hen roost. Next morning he found a huge catamount fastened by his fore foot in the trap. The animal made a desperate fight, but was finally killed. The animal has a head like a leopard, reddish brown fur, head and legs spotted. It weighed forty pounds and measured four feet from nose to tip of tail.

Governor Gray has sent the following letter to John A. Boer, sheriff of Daviess county:

DEAR SIR.—I understand that Lynch, one of the prisoners charged with the murder of Bunch in connection with the Archers, who were hanged Tuesday night at Shoals by a mob, is confined in the Daviess county jail. The frequent lynchings in Indiana of prisoners charged with crime is bringing the state into public disgrace, and I sincerely hope you will take such precautionary measures as will enable you to uphold and maintain the majesty of the law. Any attempt by persons to take the law in their own hands must be resisted to the fullest extent, and if it becomes necessary you shall have all the assistance required to maintain the supremacy of the law and insure its due enforcement. Very respectfully,
ISAAC P. GRAY,
Governor of Indiana.

BIG FIGURES.

Mrs. Grant's Check for $300,000.

Herewith is presented a reproduction in fac-simile, though reduced in size considerably, of a check that is likely to become historical. The amount of this check is said to be twice as large as any sum ever paid to an author before. Macaulay having received $20,000 in one payment for his history of England.

NEW ORLEANS, March 12.—At 7:30 this morning, when the keepers made an effort to arouse Ford and Murphy, who were to be hanged to-day, they could not wake them up. After an examination by physicians they concluded the men had taken belladonna. At 9:30 Murphy had rallied a little, but Ford was still unconscious.

PROBABLY POSTPONED.

CHICAGO, March 12.—A dispatch sent from New Orleans at noon to-day said the physicians had not yet been able to restore Ford and Murphy to consciousness and it is doubtful whether they would hang to-day.

HANGED JUST THE SAME.

NEW ORLEANS, March 12.—Pat Ford and John Murphy were banged here to-day at 12:45 for the murder of Captain Murphy in the streets. It was the most cold blooded crime ever committed in New Orleans.

At 12:40 Sheriff Butler, accompanied by several subordinate officials, took the bodies of the doomed men, still apparently lifeless, and bore them to the scaffold.

Amid profound silence the bodies were carried up the steps, held in erect position while axes were drawn over and around their necks.

No signs of life were observable in either man. The trap was then sprang.

A Prize Fight.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Mail and Express says that Jack Dempsey defeated Geo. LaBlanch in sixteen rounds near Harrison this morning. All other evening papers say the men met last night, but did not fight.

THAT bricks absorb more moisture than most kinds of stone is admitted, but they do not retain it for so long a period, and it is consequently less liable to find its way through brick walls. But apart from this, there are methods of protecting brick walls from damp, which we should shrink from applying to stone. If we were to affix ornamental hanging tiles to the surface of a stone wall, such concealment of a fine natural material would be regarded as a piece of vandalism in art almost equal to the application of cement. Hanging tiles form one of the most picturesque of coverings for external walls, and greatly conduce to the appearance of home-like comfort which the exterior of a dwelling can be made to suggest, while, if glazed, they will not absorb moisture.

STRONG STATEMENTS.

Rev. S. H. Troyer, of New Albany, Ind., states as follows how he saved himself from an attack which threatened serious results:

"On the 7th of June, 1884, I was taken with rheumatic fever, and for five weeks was not free from it. It then settled in my left foot, where it remained for about four weeks. Then it moved to my hips, shoulders, neck and collar bone, where it stayed until driven out by Athlophoros. Previous to the use of that remedy I had tried the skill of five physicians, from whom I obtained relief. Then I resorted to the use of different remedies external and internal, but I continued to grow worse all the time until the 1st of October, when my druggist recommended Athlophoros. I had but little faith when I took the first bottle. At this time I was so helpless that my wife had to dress me, wash my face and assist me out of bed. I could not sleep more than from thirty to forty-five minutes at a time, so intense was my pain.

"My first dose of Athlophoros was taken at two o'clock in the afternoon, and I took two more soon after. The first dose gave me much relief, and the second eased me so greatly that I was enabled to talk freely and with comfort to my family and friends. The third dose enabled me to sleep four and a half hours without waking. I continued the use of Athlophoros until fourteen bottles in all had been taken. By this time my health was so much improved that I left off the medicine. That was in December, 1884, and I am now quite well."

Rev. Wm. Cool, of Denver, Ind., says: "I used only one bottle of Athlophoros, and I think it a good medicine. I consider that I derived much benefit from it." "Athlophoros," says Mr. D. P. Sheets, of Mooresville, Ind., "gave me great satisfaction in a case of neuralgia, and I can heartily recommend it to others as doing all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. A. Wilson, the photographer of New Albany, Ind., whose offices are at Nos. 6 and 8 Main street, tells of one of these cases. His story follows:

"I had rheumatism hit it disappeared after using only one bottle of Athlophoros. It was in my arms and I had sharp, shooting pains. I was suffering and complaining a good deal when a friend, coming into my gallery one morning, asked me what the trouble was. I said it was rheumatism. He told me of Athlophoros as a cure for neuralgia and rheumatism, and it struck me very forcibly, as it did not claim to cure every complaint that flesh is heir to. I bought a bottle on the strength of what he said. That was all I needed. I used the one bottle over six months ago, and have not had one ache or pain from rheumatism since."

Mr. Hiram F. Sides, of Fort Branch, Ind., says of his wife's cure:

"Her suffering from neuralgia was intense, and we concluded to try Athlophoros. Almost from the first dose I could see that she was improving, and two bottles effected a permanent cure, so that she feels no effects of her once dreaded disease. I tried it for rheumatism, and soon found relief, one bottle curing me. I shall take great pleasure in recommending Athlophoros to my neighbors."

If you cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

OFFICIAL PAPER COUNTY AND CITY.

FREDAY, MARCH 12, 1886.

PHILIPS BROOKS, the most prominent preacher in Boston, is a bachelor of fifty, who, without being handsome, has a noble head, and a frame of massive proportions. He is eloquent, but not, according to the Boston standard, an orator; is as popular as he is prominent, and he lives in one of the most beautiful houses ever built in Boston.

THERE are a number of anecdotes in circulation about the late Congressman Runkin and the brave manner in which he met death. Almost his last words were a joke. When the late Senator Carpenter lay dying he showed a similar nerve. A few hours before his death he was seized with a violent spasm, and asked the doctor what it was. "It's the colon," said the doctor, referring to that portion of the anatomy bearing that name. "Then I've a little longer to live," replied Carpenter, "we never come to a full stop at a colon."

It is not generally known that the laws of this state are very severe on officials who get intoxicated. The following is the section of the revised statutes bearing on such cases: "Sec. 2035—Whoever, holding an office under the constitution or laws of this state, becomes or is intoxicated during the business hours at his office shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars nor less than ten dollars, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail not more than ten days; for a second offense may be deprived of his office by the judgment of the proper circuit court." In several cases in different parts of the state officers have been removed under this law.

Mrs. HANCOCK, widow of Gen. Hancock, is a very prepossessing woman in manner and appearance. She is of medium height and rather slender; her face, while not beautiful, is a charming face to look at, showing great nobility of thought and character. Her hair is dark, inclining to the auburn tinge; her eyes dark hazel, appearing almost black at times, and her complexion fair. Of late years she has dressed always in black and has been seen little in society, although she has entertained a great deal in a quiet way at her Island home. She has been her husband's constant companion, and her desolation, now that she is left childless and a widow, is almost beyond endurance.

The celebrated Polish novelist Michael Czajkowski, known also as Sadyk Pasha, who lately committed suicide, had a singularly romantic career. He took a leading part in the uprising of 1830, and was wounded at Warsaw. For some years after he lived in England and France, but in 1840 went to Turkey as a secret agent of France, and became a Mohammedan. He executed many important secret commissions for the Porte, and in the Crimean war organized and led the Polish Legion that occupied the Dobruza. Constantinople was his home thereafter until 1873, when the Czar pardoned him and allowed him to return to his native place, where he spent the remainder of his days in literary and horticultural pursuits.

Boston Budget: The gentlemen connected with the Congregational Church in Wollaston, wishing to raise a few hundred dollars to clear the society from debt, after due cogitation, and without consulting their wives, daughters, or sweethearts, decided on the novel experiment of getting up a church fair, to be managed and conducted exclusively by men, even to the cooking and washing of dishes. On Wednesday and Thursday evenings of the past week the fair, managed entirely by men folks, was witnessed in the church. Cake, pies, rolls, and meats of various kinds, with excellent coffee, all prepared by the men, were dispensed without female aid. Even the inevitable "grab-bag" was managed and the usual assortment of fancy articles sold by whiskered attendants. The novelty of the affair drew crowds of visitors and scored a financial success. The ladies of Wollaston are, however, undismayed, and talk of taking revenge some time.

The Root of the Evil.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to strike directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities, and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood purifying qualities. Sold by all druggists.

Thirty-five persons were burned to death or seriously injured by a fire in a daz-drying house at Orla, in Germany.

It Should Be Generally Known

That the multitude of diseases of scrofulous nature generally proceed from a torpid condition of the liver. The blood becomes impure because the liver does not act properly and work off the poison from the system, and the certain results are blotches, pimples, eruptions, swellings, tumors, ulcers, and kindred affections or settling upon the lungs and poisoning their delicate tissues until ulceration, breaking down, and consumption is established. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will, by noting upon the liver and purifying the blood, cure all these diseases.

Mr. Powderly, the head of the Knights of Labor organization, says the fact that so many strikes are now in progress does not signify that there is concerted action contemplated by the order. He remarks that the strikes are merely incidental, and chiefly owing to the fact that this is the opening of the spring trade, and the opening of a period of prosperity in business. He counsels arbitration when possible, and striking only as a last resort.

"Charles A. Munson, of Fort Wayne,

California. The transcontinental rail-
roads have generously offered to bring
this exhibit to Chicago free of freight.
It will fill twenty cars, and twelve men
will accompany it. The Fort Wayne
roads will run excursions to the expo-

to visit Terre Haute, Lafayette, Fort Wayne, Kokomo and Richmond, with a
view of ascertaining whether or not the
citizens of either of these places will
offer sufficient inducements to justify
the annual state military encampment
being held there. Messrs. Will McKee,
George Spahr and B. C. Wright have been appointed a committee to survey
this city to see if enough interest is
manifested in the encampment to have
it held here. A report will be made on this matter on the evening of the 19th
inst., when it will be decided where the
encampment will be held. There is no
doubt that Indianapolis is the proper
place for it and it will take very hard
work to make an encampment a success
in any other city of the state," says the Indianapolis News.

IT IS FIXED.

The Twelfth District Congressional Convention to Meet at Auburn May 13th

The democratic congressional committee, of the Twelfth district, met in the United States court room at two o'clock
this afternoon. The committee consists
of Col. C. A. Zollinger, chairman; Wm.
Kaough, of Allen county; Hon. Eli W.
Brown, of Whitley county; E. B. Ger-
ber, of Noble county; T. H. Spratt, of DeKalb; Herman Freygang, of Steuben,
and John W. Kimmell, of Lagrange.

Col. C. A. Zollinger resigned the chair-
manship and E. B. Gerber, of Ligonier,
was chosen to the place. Herman Frey-
gang, of Angola, was made secretary
and the committee proceeded to business.

The committee fixed May 13, 1886, as
the time for holding the congressional
convention and named Auburn as the place for the political convalescence that is to name the next congressman. Auburn is reached by railroad from every county
in the district, save Lagrange. It is
very central and gives satisfaction.

The apportionment was fixed at a ratio
of one delegate for each 200 votes cast
for Gov. L. P. Gray and for each extra hundred or a fraction over another dele-
gate is allowed. This apportionment
gives Allen county forty-four delegates;
DeKalb, fourteen; Lagrange, seven;
Noble, fourteen; Steuben, seven; Whitley, twelve, making a total of ninety-
eight delegates.

DID HE SUICIDE?

An Old Man Found Dead in the
Feeder Canal.

This morning the body of an unknown
man was found in the feeder canal, near
the aqueduct, this side of the French
brewery. The body had not been long
in the water, apparently, and Coroner
Dinnen sent it to Wellman & Franks'
mortuary rooms to await identification.
The dead man is about fifty-five years of
age, and wore a brown and white shirt
and jeans pants.

This afternoon the body was recognized as that of Fred Herbst, father of Otto Herbst, who is stamp clerk at the postoffice. Mr. Herbst has of late
been buying cattle. He lives on East
Lewis street and his death is regarded
as mysterious. Mr. Herbst is a member of St. John's Lutheran church and was much respected. Sheriff Nelson this afternoon is looking into the matter and
suspects foul play, as no motive can be assigned for suicide. He had but twenty-four cents on his person.

Revival at the Baptist Church.

This is the tenth week of the most
wonderful work of grace in the history
of this denomination in this city. The inquirers are still numerous and intensely interested in the supreme question of the hour: "What shall I do to be saved?"
The striking feature of these gospel
meetings is the conversion of adults,
ranging from twenty-five to seventy
years of age. Pastor Northrop is besieged with inquirers every afternoon,
in his study at the church, from 2 to 5
o'clock. Even upon the streets he is
met by individuals deeply solicitous regarding the subject of Christianity and
personal salvation. Surely Fort Wayne
is moving out of its sinful life into the
purer atmosphere of vital, healthful mor-
nality based upon the foundation, Christ.
These gospel meetings will continue the
as there is an honest seeker.

"Sleep breathe at once from out thee,
my little patient boy." Oh! yes, certainly.
But that child would have cried all night
with his foot, if it had not been for a tiny bottle of Salvation Oil. Only twenty-five cents expended brought him
rest.

The Metropolitan theatre Pleasant
party is drawing full houses this week.
Next week the renowned Washington
Bro's., all star combination, will appear.

CONGRESSMAN LOWRY.

The Twelfth District Represent-
ative in the City.

Hon. Robert Lowry, the representative from this district to the congress
of the United States, arrived home this morning. The judge looks hearty, but
bears the marks of hard work. He did
not go near the district committee meeting, but from his office conducted a correspondence to Washington, attending
minutely to his labors there. He will remain but a few days and expects to be
at his post early next week. The judge
is proud of President Cleveland's administration and tells that Mr. Cleveland frequently expresses his admiration for the
democrats of Allen county—in fact, he
compliments the banner county to every
Fort Wayne democrat whom he meets.

A NAKED FEE

Is all the Canal Purchasers Can
Hold.

The supreme court yesterday decided
that while the purchasers of the Wabash
and Erie canal took a fee, yet they took
it with all easements and charges of
came up from Carroll county, where a
purchaser was resisting the right of the
county to rebuild a bridge over the canal
and use the stones in old piers and abut-
ments. The court holds that the defendant bought with notice of the right of
the state to maintain a bridge over the
canal, and her right to the stone did not pass by the sale. This decision will indicate to all the purchasers that all they can hold is a naked fee.

The Billiard Contest.

Mr. Herman Dink Trentman and Ed
Husaker played a match game of balk
line billiards at the Home last evening,
in the presence of quite an assembly.
Mr. Trentman had the best of the game and won the handsome gold medal which he proudly wears. This score tells the tale:

will be when Mr. Trentman defends it against Mr. W. P. Cooper.
